

Herman Melville	Melville wrote of some of his earliest experiences at sea in the story of Wellingborough Redburn, a wet-behind-the-ears youngster whose head was filled with dreams of foreign travel and adventure. In Redburn, the protagonist enlists for a stint as a seaman aboard Highlander, a merchant ship running between New York and London. As with many of Melville's works, this one is as much about class and race as it is about the sea. (Summary by James K. White)	Redburn: His First Voyage
Redburn: His First Voyage	Read by James K. White. Total running time: 12:36:48 This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org. Cover picture original front page. Copyright expired in U.S., Canada, EU, and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by Annise. This design is in the public domain.	Herman Melville